At New York, yesterday, money on call was 408 per cent.; last loan, 5; closed easy

Prime mercantile paper, 7@10 per cent. Sterling exchange was firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.891/4@4.891/2 for demand and $4.87% @4.88 for sixty days; posted rates, $4.88@4.89 and $4.90@4.90%; commercial bills, $4.86%.

Silver certificates, $7@6714c; bar silver, 66%c; Mexican dollars, 52%c. At London bar silver was 301/2d per ounce.

Total sales of stocks were 150,883 shares, including the following: American Sugar, 13,900; American Tobacco, 28,900; Atchison, $,100; Burlington, 9,200; Chicago Gas, 4,500; General Electric, 3,400; Louisville & Nashville, 7,800; Reading, 5,200; St. Paul, 15,500; United States Leather preferred, 15,400;

Western Union, 9,500. The New York stock market displayed a sagging tendency in prices during the greater part of yesterday, and the speculative movement was sluggish. Suspense is growing acute in financial circles regarding the proposed bond issue, as the matter had been generally expected to be closed business, which are rendered unsettled by the protracted delay on a question of such decided interest. The conflicting influences of premiums on gold to arrive and coincident exports of gold from this country, uncertainty regarding the probable course of the money and commercial paper markets, and the liquidation in American securities in London, due to the Transvaal imbroglio, and other causes, all contribute to the disquiet of local dealers and investors. Foreign calles came lower previous to the opening here and the arbitrage operations for London account were for sales. A reported increase in the premium on gold as a commodity to 114 per cent. bid and 11/2 asked, and the engagement of $1,000,000 in gold for export to Europe today, also appeared to perplex the professional dealers who at p esent control the stock tape. Leather preferred was depressed 2% per cent, on rumors that the forthcoming dividend would be scaled or passed. This revived discouraging suggestions as to the adverse effect on the company's business to result from the introduction of the velocitan process for tanning leather. Tobacco displayed marked strength throughout on reiterated rumors now quite familiar of an impending compromise with the independent manufacturers, involving an advance of a cent a pound in "Battle Axe" plug brand. Whatever the merits of the reports may be, they occasioned a stampede of the shorts to cover, resulting in an advance of 514 per cent., to 84, with the improvement most marked in the final hour. The buoyarley of this specialty had a strengthening influence on the general market late in the day, which was helped by a decided tendency toward ease in call money rates. Recoveries from the low points were, accordingly, ranging from 1 to 1% per cent. in sugar, St. Paul, General Electric, Manhattan, New Jersey Central, Tennessee and was firm in tone. Business in railway and miscellaneous securities was moderate, with lower prices ruling. The sales aggregated $1,116,000. The recessions were headed by Baltimore & Ohio fives of 1925, which fell 101/2 per cent., to 99, and Baltimore Belt firsts, guaranteed, 97 per cent., to 94. Some substantial gains were noted in other usually inactive mortgages.

Coal, Leather preferred and Baltimore &

Ohio. The closing was slightly more active

There was a sharp recession in the bid quotations for the new fours, the last call showing a concession of 11/2 per cent. The fives also sagged sharply, but improved a half per cent. on the final bid. Only $5,000 of bonds were dealt in. In State mortgages a slight improvement in prices.

5,000 Virginia deferred sixes, stamped, and $1,000 deferred centuries, changed hands at The following table, prepared by James E. Berry, Room 16, Board of Trade, shows the

S. Fours, coup..... 109 S. Fours, new, reg. 1141/2 U. S. Fours, new, coup 1141/2 WEEKLY STOCK REVIEW. Bradstreet's New York stock market review says: Early in the week Wall street was confirmed in its belief that the government would issue $100,000,000 of 4-per-cent, bonds, to provide gold for the treasury spethat the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. was forming a syndicate to subscribe for this amount, with the further privilege or obligation (as it may be regarded) to take a supplementary issue of a like sum. It also transpired that the syndicate has been largely over-subscribed; that foreign interests have taken part in the operation to an unknown amount, and that banks and institutions throughout the country, as well as in this city, have shown marked readiness to surrender their gold holdings for a share in the new bonds. These developments have checked the depressing influences that strong undertone to assert itself. The "street" is fully aware of the reasons for delay in making public announcement of the new bond issue. It is fully appreciated that the Senate must be allowed an opportunity to act on the bond bill which passed the House of Representatives last week. There seems to be no doubt that the Senate finance committee, which is dominated by the silver men, will convert the bill into a free-silver coinage measure. the Venezuelan incident has become less pronounced, but leading houses there, including the Rothschilds, have refused to in-terest themselves in the new United States The political troubles in South Africa have in a measure withdrawn attention from American stocks and financial affairs, and it is to be remarked that, while London prices were lower on several days than the quotations here, there was little selling from that quarter. Several important German financial interests are reported, however, to be large subscribers to the Morgan bond syndicate.

LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE. Trade Still Quiet, with Firm Prices the Feature.

In most departments business is slow, most merchants now taking an inventory of their stock to see where they stand at the beginning of 1896. Collections are said to be quite satisfactory, a majority of the retail merchants having bought of late to meet immediate requirements. The travelby this time. The same condition applies | ing salesmen have not many of them startto almost all other branches of Wall-street | ed out, but on Monday the move will be general. In prices no changes of importance were made. Receipts of poultry and eggs are light and prices firm. Provisions are in active request and prices steady. In staple groceries tirmness is the prominent characteristic. The same remark applies to dry goods. In fruits and produce steady prices prevail.

The local grain market showed a little activity yesterday and some increase in recelpts. Cold, dry weather will set grain moving more freely than since the wet weather of the last half of December prevailed. Track bids yesterday ruled as fol-

Senator Sherman's Plan. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: If public opinion can compel the Senate to listen to reason, is there not hope that Senator Sherman has discovered a simple remedy for the treasury gold famine? Secretary Carlisle claims that only gold bonds can be sold to advantage, yet though the good faith of the government is pledged to pay coin bonds in the best money, Congress will not set the question at rest by making the bonds say what they mean, because some members are afraid of being called gold bugs. Again, it is perfectly clear that the depletion of the treasury must go on as long as greenbacks and treasury notes must be redeemed in gold and reissued indefinitely, yet Congress is unwilling to authorize the retirement of the greenbacks. Comes now John Sherman, as he has in many former crises, with a simple resolu-tion that provides for the maintenance of a gold reserve that will put the power of the treasury to redeem its notes beyond question, and skillfully dodges the retirenent bugbear by directing that notes, when redeemed, shall not be reissued, except in payment for gold coin or bullion. If the government pays gold for greenbacks upon demand, can even such financial weaklings as Senators Voorhees and Turple fail to as Senators Voorhees and Turple fail to admit the justice of requiring gold for their reissue? By this plan speculators and gold exporters would be prevented from preying upon the treasury for their own profit, and any injurious reduction in the volume of currency would be provided against. It is to be hoped that the author's explanation of his resolution will convince the sound money men of both parties that here is a chance to do their country a great service Even in the Senator he support of a reluctant majority. J.

WHEATRULEDHIGHER

WEAKNESS CHANGED TO STRENGTH ON GOOD BUYING LATER.

Other Markets All Helped by Wheat, Corn and Oats Advancing and Provisions Making Gains.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.-The markets were generally higher to-day. Bull news was predominant, and wheat, after opening rather easy, soon strengthened and closed 1/20%c higher than yesterday. Corn and cats were helped by wheat, the latter gaining 1/601/4c, while provisions show substantial advances.

Wheat ruled fairly active, and, while showing some tendency to weakness during the early part of the session, finally got stronger and sold up fully 1/2c. The indifferent cables and the continued uncertainty of a favorable solution of the financial problems now before the country were the early weak influences. But there was some good buying by prominent houses and the cold weather caused some fear for the growing wheat in localities where it was not fully protected by snow; but such areas, it is said, are quite limited. The receipts are still running light everywhere, and the exports from the seaboard yesterday were over 500,000 bushels in wheat and flour, making over 1,800,000 bushels so far this week, and there were estimates of a very considerable decrease in the visible next week. Cudany was an active and liberal buyer, and the trade generally began to look with more favor on the buying side, and as there was not much selling pressure the price gradually went up and held fairly well. May sold early at 58%c up to 58% @59c split, off to 58% 658% c split, then to 59% Gos 40 split, and eased ou by noon to 59c. The market held steady during the last hour at 59@591/sc, closing firm at 591/4c. Corn was slow, steady and featureless. There was a light trade and the estimate for to-morrow is light, but the cold weather is in favor of some increase. May sold all day at 27%@28c, closing at 27% @28c split. Oats were very dull. The closing strength of wheat caused a desire among a few of the shorts to go home even. That closed the market up urm at the best prices of the day and at 3-16c advance for the May de-The day's run of hogs was again a disappointment to the bears, causing increased disposition to cover their previous sales. The bulls were also more inclined to buy. Both parties began bidding against each other for the limited offerings. A lively advance resulted, and at the close pork was left with a gain of 20c for January and 171/2c for May. Lard stopped with a gain of .0cc Estimates for to-morrow: Wheat, 77 cars; corn, 255 cars; oats, 116 cars; hogs, 15,000

It is to be hoped that the author's explanation of his resolution will convince the sound money men of both parties that here is a chance to do their country a great service. Even in the Senate there must be enough common sense and patriotism to convince a majority that something must be done, and done soon, to prevent these constantly recurring crises. IMPORTANT RULING BY JUDGE BAKER IN A DAMAGE CASE.

Accepting Money from the Pennsylvania Company's Voluntary Relief Funds Excludes Legal Action.

Yesterday Judge Baker overruled the demurrer of Eugene Otis to the answer of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in a suit for damages for personal injury. Otis was injured while in the company's employ, and sued for damages, claiming that it was the fault of the company on account of retaining a drunken employe. After the injury Otis accepted $660 from the company's relief fund, which the company, in its answer, claimed operated as a bar to action for damages. In his opinion Judge Baker

"As a general proposition it is unquestionably true that a railroad company can not relieve itself from the resposibility to an empoive for an injury resulting from its own negligence, by any contract entered into for that purpose before the happening of the injury, and if the contract under consideration is of that character it must be held to be invalid. "The plaintiff agreed that when an injury happened to him he would then determine whether he would accept the benefits secured to him by the contract or waive them and retain his right of action for damages. He knew that if he accepted the benefits secured by the contract it would operate to release his right to the other Frederick Sanders, Jr., Pleads In-• fancy as a Bar to a Contract.

Mrs. M. A. Marsh, formerly employed asa clerk in Sanders Bros.' ice cream parlor

on South Meridian street, brought suit to recover wages amounting to $49.50 due her while in their employ. Frederick Sanders, jr., his father, Frederick Sanders, sr., and his two brothers, Henry C. and John, were NEW YORK, Jan. 3.-R. G. Dun & Co's made parties to the suit. She alleged the defendants were copartners. It seems Mrs. Marsh was employed by Frederick Sanders, against 13,885 in 1894, but the aggregate of jr. On the witness stand he testified that he is sole proprietor of the place on South Meridian street, and that his father and brothers have no connection with the establishment. He also testified he is a minor in the first quarter was followed by a small | and said it is his intention to repudiate the debt, although he admitted making a contract with Mrs. Marsh, agreeing to pay her $5 a week. He said he supposed the amount she claimed was correct. John and Henry Sanders owned a milk depot on Virginia avenue during the time the other store was ferred liabilities to payments through clear- in operation. They both denied having any interest in the Meridian-street store, and said it was owned and operated by their brother Frederick. It was shown that the elder Sanders had no interest in the different enterprises of his sons and the case against him was dismissed. The evidence showed Frederick Sanders kept the store under the name and style of Sanders Bros. Mrs. Marsh said she always understood that John and Henry were partners in the business, that "Fred" had so stated to her. Frederick's two older brothers testified that they sold milk and other products to him, thracite coal rising, 15.3, but closing 5.6 lower than Jan. 1, 1895. Cotton rose 64.7 per but that he always paid for them. They admitted that they knew he was running the store as Sanders Bros. One of them testified that he had loaned Frederick $100, but that it had been repaid. He said that it was not loaned for the purpose of investment in the business.

Justice, Walpole rendered judgment for the amount, $49.50, in favor of Mrs. Marsh against Henry C. and John Sanders. He said as Frederick had pleaded the statute of infancy, no judgment could be rendered against him. He thought his brothers, however, knew their brother was conducting the business on their name and credit, and should be held liable for the legitimate debts incurred in the business.
